Dear Dr. Olson:

Thank you for your letter concerning the position that will be opening soon in your department. The research soundness, interesting and challenging, and I am pleased that you would consider me for this position. However, I have ~~just~~ ^{just} recently started work here at the University of Illinois as a teaching and research associate and expect to be here one to two years. Therefore, I will not be available for a new position for quite some time. Thank you for your interest.

Sincerely yours,
